February is Teen Dating Violence Awareness Month

In February, our thoughts turn to love – Valentine's Day celebrations, gifts, flowers, and candy are just some of the ways we express our feelings to those we love. However, when you are young and in your first serious relationship, love can be confusing and intimidating. February is Teen Dating Violence Awareness Month, a special, teen-centered focus on love and healthy vs. unhealthy relationships.

Dove Domestic Violence Program provides teen dating violence education to high school and middle school teens in schools throughout the DeWitt, Macon, Moultrie, Piatt, and Shelby county area. In our presentations, we provide information on power and control, the cycle of abuse, abuse warning signs, and how to seek help. However, the primary focus of our interactions with teens is to help them explore who they are and what they want in relationships, and to give them the tools to make informed relationship choices. Over and over, teens tell us they value respect, honesty, trust, equality, safety, healthy boundaries, and good communication in their relationships. Dove's facilitators guide discussions on physical, emotional, and digital boundaries and provide in-depth guidance on safety, including safety when online.

If you are an educator, parent, or teen who would like to learn more about Dove's teen dating violence education presentations, call Joyce Kirkland at 217.428.6616. For crisis assistance or to talk to a trained staff member or volunteer about your relationship, call Dove's Domestic Violence Hotline at 217.423.2238. Throughout February, watch Dove's social media for informational posts about teen dating violence.

...and the greatest of these is LOVE! That four-letter word is one of the most impactful statements that some of us could ever hear. What's even more astounding is the feeling that love generates when it comes from a place of sincerity. The roads that bring many people to the doors of Dove, Inc. have been paved with everything directly opposite of "love". Their dreams and hopes have often been out shadowed by the circumstance of their crisis at hand. The feeling of "love" has often been forgotten, or at best conflated, when one experiences a less than loving encounter in their world. This is why it warms my heart to witness the love that is consistently spread throughout the Dove Community. It is evident in the stellar work that our volunteers commit to each day. It is evident in the dedication of our employees. It is evident through the donations and letters that we receive. It is evident through the "thank yous" that are bestowed upon staff and volunteers by those that we serve. It is evident in our advocacy. It is evident in our purpose. We are here to spread love and, in this month, where we were celebrate the history of African Americans I would like to share a quote: "Just don't give up what you're trying to do. Where there is love and inspiration, I don't think you can go wrong." – Ella Fitzgerald. I wholeheartedly agree, we cannot go wrong as long as we set out to follow our mission and inspire with love. We truly appreciate your continued support and are ever so blessed by it!

Thanks,

Dove Financial Assistance

January seems to have passed quickly, but there were lots of good things that happened this month. One of the good things that occurred is that we have received some funding to assist Macon County residents who are 60 or older with power bills and rent. There are no income requirements to qualify for these funds, we only need an application, ID, and power bill or lease. Contact me at 217.433.7435 to apply, or for any questions.

As most of you know, we are the distributors of the Warm Neighbors Cool Friends program from the Energy Assistance Foundation for Macon, DeWitt, and Piatt counties. The details of this program can be found on page 8, but I do want to highlight a change in the program. Just this month, the Energy Assistance Foundation has raised the matched funding amount to $500 for the heating months! I would urge you to look at the income guidelines and to apply if you qualify. The funds are there for this program to be used, so let the program relieve a bit of burden if it can!

January also brought forth some learning for me. I attended the Homeless Advisory Council meeting where the guest speaker was from The Set Free Movement. If you aren't aware, the Set Free Movement has a mission to end human trafficking. The speaker shared lots of great information on human trafficking, including what signs to look for and how to help and report. If you want more information, you can go to their website at www.setfreemovement.org. I was also able to attend a zoom workshop, along with Angie Williams, on "Interrupting Unconscious Bias: Raising Social Awareness and Fostering Inclusive Workplaces." This was a very informative workshop that gave scenarios to make you think through what unconscious biases you might hold so that you can find strategies to work towards being more inclusive. Lastly, I was able to participate in the Point-in-Time count of the homeless in Macon County. This was an eye-opening experience that further deepened the feeling that the work of Dove within our community is desperately needed by many. As always, this work can't be done without many hands and hearts to do so, which includes each of you. I thank you for your support in Dove's mission!

I want to take this time to thank all BABES volunteers and to let them know how appreciated they are. Without them we would not be able to provide BABES programming in 7 schools with several of those schools having not only the K-2nd BABES program but the Advanced BABES programming as well. This year the BABES program has 6 active volunteers. What a mighty group of volunteers!

The BABES Program could use your help to provide pro-active programming in more schools to help school children develop positive living skills that will be a foundation for future choices they will make as adolescents and adults.

Neighborhood Services Program

Sharing News About The Neighborhoods!

January seemed a bit unusual this year, with the weather being quieter than I recall last year and busyness being more. I hit the ground running as new CONO president, Kathy Hodge Williams shared two contacts for the possibility of beginning new neighborhood groups. I contacted these folks, plus one more, and met with one young lady whose hope is to have a group together and meeting by March.

Among other meetings and contacts for January, the city council had an interesting study session on neighborhoods. There was discussion on and some narrowing down of ideas to better our community which included Great Streets Great Neighborhoods. There were also quite a few citizens who shared their opinions and thoughts concerning landlords and the recent food truck fees, among other issues.

I had the humbling opportunity to walk in the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. March this year. The presentation given afterward in the Civic Center Auditorium was moving and informative as Mt. Zion High School teacher, Rich Hanson, shared topics from his class, The African American Experience. Afterward, three of his students answered questions on the topics presented and more as they shared the heart of what taking this class meant to them and their new views and understanding of America's history. Also, the day included DPS 61 students sharing their award-winning essays, poems and artwork and another student shared her beautiful voice in song. It was as encouraging a day as it was heart wrenching, at times with the truth of some of the ugliest parts of American history spoken, yet seeing the light of students from varying races on the same stage being given the same appreciation for who they are today. Perhaps Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s dream is finally becoming a reality, at least it was this day, in Decatur, IL with hope of continuing onward for eternity.

Finally, a favorite highlight this month was meeting with Shem Sanders, once again, as we work toward collaboration between the awesome work he and his team does within the city through Shemilah Outreach Center and our Dove, Inc. staff. Our January 31 meeting with Shem includee RSVP Director, Angie Williams and Volunteer Resources Administrator, Dustin Depperschmidt. It was a productive time for sure as we then take the journey into all that is yet to unfold in February.

"Are You Ok?"

Did you know that there is a program called "Are You Ok?" that provides a daily phone call for those who might need to be checked on (for homebound individuals, seniors, individuals with disabilities, and latchkey kids) to make sure they are safe. The way it works is that at a pre-arranged time, the system will make calls to the subscriber, and if the call is answered it is documented as "all is well." If the call is not answered, a set of repeat calls will be made and if there is still no answer, steps will be taken to make sure you are safe. If you are interested in this program, please know it's free of charge. People can sign up through DeWitt County Sheriff's Office at 217.935.9507.

Coffee Chat

In our Macon County Office, March 22, we are tentatively planning to have the first of our Coffee Chat series.

What is a Coffee Chat, you ask? Our plan is to bring in volunteer managers from our different stations to talk about their agency or program, and their volunteer needs for those who are interested. We are planning to try and have 3-4 representatives from volunteer sites in our Dean Simcox Conference Room from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. You do not have to stay for the whole thing – just drop by, have some coffee and a pastry, and learn about some of our stations and volunteer opportunities. Bring a friend with you to sign up for RSVP and you just might get a fun surprise!

RSVP Recognition Luncheon

Mark your calendars for August 24. That is the date we are currently eying for our annual volunteer appreciation luncheon!

DFA

Dove Financial Assistance received funding to assist residents of Macon County who are 60 or older. This assistance will be to help with power bills and rent. There are no income requirements, to receive assistance you will

This Valentine party is at 1:00 p.m. Please stop by and listen to the band, grab a treat, and learn about volunteer opportunities through Faith in Action! Operation Enduring Support

Thanks to all who donated items and/or volunteered to help with Operation Enduring Support, a program designed to send packages for military families overseas at Christmas and Easter, led by Grace United Methodist Church in Decatur. According to the church's newsletter, 140 packages were sent out to people deployed in Kuwait, Iraq, Kosovo, Germany, Southern Border and two ships at sea. This undoubtedly brought cheer to each family that received a package!
